Dear Prof Chee

CME Requirements For The Current Cycle

As the medical profession fights the Covid-19 Pandemic, we have received feedback that many doctors find difficulty in achieving their CME requirements, in particular for Core points.

We appreciate that there are many on-line CME activities that doctors can take part in and doctors can still attain the 50 points. However we would like to suggest the following fine-tuning measures for the current CME cycle:

1. All accredited CME activities related to educating doctors about Covid-19 will be considered Core points for all doctors.
2. The current cap of 10 points per cycle for Category 3A activities to be temporarily raised to at least 20 points.

We hope you can consider the above requests favourably.

Yours sincerely,

Dr Lee Yik Voon
President
Singapore Medical Association
